Standard Position Description #9070

SPECIAL AGENT, GS-1812-7

The incumbent is an advanced trainee in a developmental position and is expected to progress toward journeyman competence in all phases of law enforcement activities. Incumbent is exposed to a wide variety of work situations involving diversified issues and problems and steadily increasing amounts of independence.

Major Duties:

Participates with special agents of higher grade in investigation and preparation of cases by executing assigned segments of larger investigations.

Assists higher grade special agents in the investigation and apprehension of persons suspected of offenses against the criminal laws of the United States, specifically provisions of fish and wildlife regulations cited in 4 AM 4.2D (3) and any regulation of the Secretary of the Interior in Title 50 of The Code of Federal Regulations that is issued pursuant, and other pertinent laws and regulations.

Participates under close supervision, in the full range of law enforcement activities, i.e. surveillance, raids, interviewing witnesses, interrogating suspects, searching for physical evidence and clues, seizures of contraband, equipment and vehicles, securing and serving search warrants, making arrests, inspecting records and documents, developing evidence for orderly presentation to United States Attorneys and other legal officers, testifying in court, and preparing thorough written reports.

Frequently travels away from the regular duty station.

Performs substantial amounts of irregular, unscheduled, administratively uncontrollable overtime.

Participates in undercover assignments for very short periods of time and under close watch by other special agents.

Possesses a valid State driver's permit at all times.

Protects and safeguards Government property and equipment with which charged.

Operates motorized vehicles and boats.

As a condition of employment, the incumbent is required to undergo, and successfully pass, periodic physical examinations, participate in physical training, and maintain a physical condition that permits duties to be performed efficiently and safely.

Factor 1. Knowledge Required by the Position:

Ability to present investigative findings in an organized and concise manner in investigative reports.

Ability to effectively interact with the general public.

Skill and ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.

Skill and ability to effectively use firearms, and to operate motorized vehicles and boats.

Factor 2. Supervisory Controls:

Work is outlined in specific terms by the supervisor and is carried out under general supervision. Assignments completed are reviewed through field inspections, review of reports, and discussion, to insure adequacy of methods and procedures and to give advice on new or unusual problems. Incumbent selects, applies and adapts standard techniques and procedures to carry out the work. Checks with supervisor on deviation from the general work plan or program. Special emphasis is placed on insuring that the incumbent understands the appropriate uses and limitations of law enforcement procedures and techniques; and has the judgment necessary to perform law enforcement duties.

Factor 3. Guidelines:

Incumbent uses judgment to select and adapt guidelines, and perform duties involving minor deviations from these guidelines. Significant deviations are referred to supervisor.

Factor 4. Complexity:

Assignments consist of a wide variety of tasks which are developmental in nature. These tasks are designed to provide the incumbent with exposure to the full range of law enforcement responsibilities. As part of the training, the incumbent may be assigned full responsibility for specific investigations. Investigations include: identification of violations, proving the elements of the violations, and presentation of cases for appropriate judicial action. Assignments of this nature are characterized by work involving several steps rather than one assigned task.

Factor 5. Scope and Effect:

The purpose of the work is to perform a variety of tasks, operations, and specific assignments related to law enforcement. Work affects the overall effectiveness of the law enforcement region.

Factor 6. Personal Contacts:

Personal contacts are primarily with professional law enforcement within the organization, other Fish and Wildlife Service employees, personnel of other Federal agencies and State, and local counterparts in investigative agencies. The general public is contacted in the course of work activities.

Factor 7. Purpose of Contacts:

Contacts are for the purpose of obtaining and exchanging information, and receiving instructions from supervisory personnel. Contacts with the general public are to ascertain compliance with law and regulations.

Factor 8. Physical Demands:

Work requires considerable physical exertion including long periods of standing, walking over rough terrain, recurring bending, lifting, reaching or similar activities. The work requires average agility and dexterity.

Factor 9. Work Environment:

Work includes both office and outdoor settings. There is regular and recurring exposure to moderate risks and discomforts such as adverse weather conditions, high/low temperature, dusty/noisy environments, etc. Assignments include surveillance work in aircraft, boats and automobiles. The incumbent is expected to conduct duties in a safe and orderly manner so as not to endanger self, fellow workers, or property with which entrusted.
